

Reuther Says U. S. Production Could Be Up $100 Billion

Able to Retain Lead Over Reds, He Maintains

Washington —P— Walter Reuther told congress today that different governmental policies could have pushed the nation's production more than $100 billion higher in the last six years.

"This production that we have now forever lost could well have spelled the difference between an unchallenged continuation of United States world leadership and the threatened, uneasy position in which we find ourselves today," he said.

Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers and an AFL-CIO vice president, outlined an extensive program of government activities he said would assure full employment and economic growth. His testimony was prepared for the mittee studying general economic trends.

Sees Lack of Vision
Before the same group the U. S. Chamber of Commerce contended that government policies are the greatest single cause of inflation, exceeding acts of both business and labor in that respect.

Speaking for the AFL-CIO, Reuther said "our problems flow from a lack of vision and determination—a failure to appreciate the vast growth possibilities of the American economy, an absence of determination to translate those possibilities into reality."

Reuther said the communists are rapidly closing the gap between us in terms of general economic strength, although we are still ahead. "The failure of the United States economy in recent years to grow as it can and should is one of our major sources of weakness," Reuther said. "It has weakened us

5-Year Program Of Aid to Schools To Cost $5 Billion

Washington —P— The Eisenhower administration today proposed a 5-year program of emergency federal aid to public schools and a college construction program designed to provide about $5 billion worth of facilities.

The cost for the programs was estimated at around $2 billion over the next 25 years. The school proposal would authorize federal aid to needy school districts to pay one-half the cost of bonds and interest incurred to build urgently needed public schools.

Sec. of Welfare Flemming told a news conference the program is designed to make it possible to initiate up to $3 billion worth of construction during the next five years in communities which lack the resources to finance their own classroom needs.

Flemming said such a program should provide about 75,000 classrooms in addition to those which would be built outside the federal aid program.

Plane Misses Runway But Pilots Not Hurt

Madison —P— Two Truax Air Force base pilots escaped injury Sunday night when their T33 trainer missed a runway when landing from a training flight.

The men are Lts. R. K. Kortbein and Robert Marron, both of Madison.

Special Boat Show Coverage In Today's Issue

The sports section in tonight's Post-Crescent provides first-hand coverage of the 29th annual Chicago National boat show at the International amphitheatre.

The Post-Crescent sent Outdoor Editor Jay Reed to the country's largest marine exposition for an on-the-scene report of what is new in the nation's fastest growing outdoor recreation field.

His account of the show's opening weekend and a rundown on the industry's boat-motor-trailer "package" promotion appears on page B-6 of tonight's Post-Crescent.

Civil Rights Plan Eased On Integration

Developments in Virginia Caused Change in Program

Washington —P— The civil rights program the Eisenhower administration submitted to congress is understood to have been tailored in the light of the recent orderly integration of public schools in Arlington and Norfolk, Va.

Atty. Gen. Rogers virtually said so at a news conference last week when he expressed the hope that other areas coming up to a school desegregation problem would take a leaf from the Virginia book.

Rogers expressed pleasure that the Virginia program got underway after final court rulings without disorder and without federal intervention.

Marking Time
During the many conferences at which the administration's proposals were shaped, consideration was given to asking new powers for the government to initiate school integration suits on its own motion.

The attorney general told a news conference in mid-January that the administration would mark time on submitting its proposals to congress to see what happened in Virginia.

Apparently as a result of the peaceful integration in Arlington and Norfolk, the administration bills omitted any "big stick" role for the federal government.

Instead, the president asked in relation to the school situation for a stronger law to deal with persons seeking to obstruct valid court orders for desegregation.

The New York Times said the administration knocked one proposal out of its program at the last minute because of Virginia's peaceful acceptance of some Negro children in white schools.

Hoffa Associate Given 3 Years In Perjury Case

New York —P— Benjamin Franklin Collins, Detroit union official and close associate of teamsters President James R. Hoffa, was sentenced today by U. S. District Judge John M. Cashin to three years imprisonment for perjury.

The case developed from a grand jury investigation of wiretapping and racketeering in Local 299 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Collins, 48, is secretary-treasurer of the local. Collins was continued in $2,500 bail pending an appeal from the sentence.

Doesn't Want to Go To Bed, Calls Police

Auburn, Maine —P— It was 8:45 p.m. at police headquarters. A young voice telephoned for help immediately.

Two patrolmen rushed to 16 Ninth street and found that all was not well for 8-year-old Thomas Roberge.

He didn't want to go to bed.

His mother had insisted, so he called police.

Tom lost.

West Agrees on Action If Reds Cut Off Berlin

Dulles Renews Allied Offer of Conference For General Settlement

Washington —P— Sec. of State Dulles said today the western allies have agreed generally on procedures to follow if Russia invokes "physical means" to block access to Berlin.

At the same time he renewed the west's offer to talk about a general settlement.

"We are willing to talk with the Soviets in a sincere effort to reach agreements," he said.

Dulles returned to Washington at 8 a. m., EST aboard a U. S. air force plane from talks at London, Paris and Bonn.

The secretary said he was reporting promptly to President Eisenhower.

Dulles told newsmen his talks aboard "reconfirmed the unity and firmness of our position."

Dulles added:

"We do not accept any substitution of East Germans for the Soviet Union in its responsibilities toward Berlin and its obligations to us."

"We are resolved that our position in and access to, West Berlin shall be preserved."

Dulles did not elaborate on his statement. He gave no hint of what procedures the western allies have decided to follow if Russia tries physically to block the routes to Berlin, isolated 110 miles inside East Germany.

Keep in Touch
Dulles said leaders of the allied nations will keep in close contact on the German situation.

"Their foreign ministers contemplate meetings as may be appropriate," he said. "Officers at other levels will be in consultation on specific questions."

Dulles said he returns from his six-day trip "encouraged by the unity, understanding and resolution in the three countries I visited."

Dulles said of his trip: "We have had a useful exchange of views primarily on the serious situation created by Soviet threats and repudiations concerning Berlin. . . . We discussed the whole problem of Germany. We exchanged views on the prospects for a foreign ministers

Bad Weather Restrictions on Electra Planes

New York —P— The federal aviation agency today imposed nationwide restrictions on bad weather landings by Electra turboprop passenger planes as a result of the death of 65 persons in an Electra crash last Tuesday.

Operated by American Airlines, the plane crashed into the East river here just before midnight while approaching LaGuardia field on instruments. Eight of the 73 persons aboard survived.

A spokesman for the government agency said the restrictions will be in effect "while the investigation is going on as to the cause of the accident. The restrictions are temporary, voluntary on the part of the airlines, and the airlines have accepted the restrictions so that the order is in force now."

Let's Draw the Lion On Tigerish Weather

Wisconsin — Hazardous driving and glaze warning. President Eisenhower Chats with a group of Boy Scouts at Spence Air base, Ga., before boarding the Columbine III for Washington after vacationing at the plantation-estate of former treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey. About sixty boys, celebrating National Boy Scout week, waited an hour in the rain to see the president.

Won't Yield To Russians

W. Berlin Mayor Thinks Settlement Can be Reached

Washington —P— West Berlin's Mayor Willy Brandt said today his city would be "squeezed like a lemon" by the Russians should the west accept the Soviet ultimatum and withdraw its troops.

Brandt and his wife were interviewed on a television program while they had breakfast in West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe's residence.

The West Berlin mayor reiterated his opinion that eventually a lasting settlement could be worked out between East and West should the two parties find a basis of "common interest."

Brandt said he is studying with great interest a theory put forth by the former U. S. ambassador to Russia, George Kennan, that a limited withdrawal of both east and west forces might ease the German problem.

Ready to Resist
"I can't identify myself with the details," Brandt said. "I feel that a rethinking of European policy would be necessary."

Brandt said the more than two million Berliners are determined to resist any incorporation of their city into the Soviet orbit.

"My sons will grow up in a reunited city which will be the capital of a reunited Germany," Brandt said.

Mrs. Brandt said the women of West Berlin are not frightened at all by Soviet threats.

"We have gone through so many difficulties before, they are not afraid now," she said.

Brandt meets today with state department officials.

Freezing Weather Follows Storm in Southern California

Los Angeles —P— Freezing temperatures hit southern California early today in the wake of a storm which struck with rain, hail, snow, thunder and lightning.

The weekend storm ended a near-record drought in the Los Angeles area.

After briefly cleared skies, more wet weather is expected: The forecaster says there is a good chance of more rain today and a 75 per cent probability of more tonight and tomorrow.

Temperatures plummeted early today as the first storm moved on to the south. Many citrus areas reported recordings from 29 to 31.

Snow fell as low as 2,500 feet yesterday, hitting some of Los Angeles' foothill suburbs.

Hail even pelted southern California beach cities.

Air Force May be Pared to 90 Wings

Slash Expected to Go Into Effect in Next Few Years

Washington —P— The air force probably will shrink its organizational size to fewer than 90 wings during the next five or six years — smallest since the wholesale demobilization after World war II.

These wings will include missile outfits as well as manned aircraft. Part of the cutback will be in B47 medium bomber wings as more efficient means of delivering destruction replace these planes.

Economy seems to play only a small part in the trend, which began about two years ago. Improvement of both aircraft and missiles accounts primarily for the change.

The nuclear firepower which can be delivered by even 90 wings will be thousands of times that of the huge bomber fleets of World war II.

The military budget now being debated in congress says that there will be a "modest reduction in the number of wings in the air force, from 105 at the end of the current fiscal year (next June 30) to 102 at the end of 1960."

The slow reduction in wing government and of a better strength started after a peak postwar strength of 137 was reached in mid-1957.

The size of an air force wing varies from 45 big bombers to 75 fighters. Normally, a wing consists of three squadrons of planes.

In missiles, the squadron designation is generally used. A ballistic missile squadron will range from 10 weapons for an intercontinental ballistic to 15 for an intermediate range ballistic missile (IR-80) squadron. Formation of such squadrons is just beginning.

During the coming year, as the air force nears the 102-wing level, a wing of Atlas ballistic missiles will be included in the over-all count, along with the present wing of Matador guided missiles and probably a wing of Bomarc long range anti-aircraft missiles.

Fog Blamed for Spread Of Flu Among British

BY STERLING SLAPPEY
London —P— Britain suffered today from 4-day flu and fog. Many experts think there is a connection.

Fifty-four persons died last week as a direct result of flu, 55 the week before and there were no indications of abatement.

"The strain this year is of the 'B' flu variety," a health ministry spokesman said, "hundreds of 1,167 boys were sick in bed. Some college houses had 50 per cent of their members ill. One London school of 2,100 students reported 600 of them ill."

A heavy run on stocks of flu vaccine was under way by large firms, which were inoculating their employees to hold down absenteeism. Two large drug firms were stepping up vaccine production.

Alaska's Gov. William Egan, recovering from surgery, gets a cheering word from his wife in a Seattle, Wash., hospital. Egan, once given only a 50-50 chance for recovery, received his first outside visitors—a bowling team from Fairbanks. Mrs. Egan has been with the governor every day.

Press Chief Linked To Television Case

Man Who Ignited Adams Investigation Wants Congress To Check on James C. Hagerty

Washington — The man who ignited last year's dramatic Sherman Adams case now wants congress to investigate White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

Dr. Bernard Schwartz, a former House investigator, called for the probe yesterday after accusing Hagerty of stepping into a television case for political reasons. Hagerty immediately denied this.

"Mr. Schwartz was either misinformed or was deliberately lying," he said.

Eastern TV Station Schwartz, who is a New York university law professor, makes his charge against Hagerty in a forthcoming book, "The Professor and the Commission." Parts of the book were released Saturday. Hagerty replied by making four letters public.

Last year, the house legislative oversight subcommittee removed Schwartz as chief counsel. But, exploring some of his accusations and using files he had assembled, it launched investigations that led to the resignations of Adams, who was President Eisenhower's chief assistant, and Richard A. Mack, a federal communications commissioner.

The FCC later changed its proposal and, after a series of decisions, allowed WRGB to remain a VHF station. It balanced the situation, however, by adding a second VHF station to the area.

Hagerty said Saturday that his activity in the case was routine. When he receives such queries, Hagerty said, he normally relays them to the agency involved.

Famed U. S. Military Man Succumbs at 76

'Wild Bill' Donovan Won Laurels in Two World Wars

Washington — Maj. Gen. William J. "Wild Bill" Donovan, who directed the government's daring intelligence operations during World War II, died yesterday. He was 76.

Death of the former director of the office of strategic services was attributed to a heart ailment. He had been in Walter Reed army hospital here for some time.

Donovan won the medal of honor for leading the famed "Fighting 69th" regiment of the Rainbow division in World War I. His fighting prowess became a legend of the war.

His nickname of "Wild Bill" stemmed from the exacting methods he used in training his men and the aggressive example of spirit and vigor he set for them.

The OSS operations Donovan headed during World War II were worldwide in scope. The organization conducted important research at home and daring exploits abroad, many of them behind enemy lines.

The shadowy army also fostered resistance movements and made possible the escape of some 5,000 members of the armed forces who had been shot down or trapped behind enemy lines in various theaters.

President Harry S. Truman in 1946 decorated Donovan with the oak leaf cluster to the distinguished service medal he received during World War I. President Eisenhower in 1957 awarded Donovan the national security medal.

Ran For Governor Donovan was defeated in 1932 when he ran as the Republican candidate for governor of New York. The winner was Herbert H. Lehman.

A lawyer, Donovan served after World War II on the war crimes prosecution staff that prepared evidence against the principal Nazi war criminals tried at Nuremberg.

In the field of diplomacy, Donovan once served as ambassador to Thailand.

A native of Buffalo, N. Y., Donovan was an outstanding quarterback while attending Columbia university.

The New Cathedral, Left, in Coventry, England, rises alongside the ruins of the old one, right, which was destroyed by German bombs in World War II. The new structure is being built by public subscription.

Town Concerned Over Six Killed on State Roads

Vanished Residents Puzzling Facts Cloud Disappearance Of Man, His Wife and Five Children

Silver Lake, Minn. — All seven members of the Earl Zrust family, lifelong residents of this small village, vanished Dec. 29 and haven't been seen since.

Disappearance of the building contractor, his wife and five children has the 600 residents of Silver Lake worried. Mayor Joe W. Gehlen said no one here knows what's happened to the Zrusts.

"It's shaken up the whole town," Gehlen said today. "We're all so concerned. The Zrusts were our friends and neighbors. Earl had been on our village council the past five years."

Puzzling Aspects Zrust is 30, his wife, Caroline, 28, and their children are Sandra, 10, Susan, 8, Terry, 5, Douglas, 3, and Russell, 2.

There were some especially puzzling aspects. The Zrusts left without locking their new home. Only the car and some heavy clothing were missing; the rest of the clothing and household furnishings remained. Utilities were not shut off.

The disappearance was first discovered by a milkman who made a delivery to the Zrust home Dec. 30, then found on his next trip that the milk was still outside.

Zrust's widowed mother, Mrs. Christine Zrust, said she had no idea where the family could have gone.

65 Days Aloft Sets World Endurance Flight Record Las Vegas, Nev. — (P) — Don't anybody mention flying to Robert Timm and John Cook for a while. They've had enough—almost 65 days aloft.

They landed their light plane Saturday afternoon, touching land for the first time since Dec. 4 when they took off in quest of a world's endurance flight record.

They got it, too, by nearly 15 days. Their official mark was 64 days, 22 hours and 21 minutes. The old record was 50 days and 18 minutes set last September by Jim Heth and Bill Burkhardt, Dallas.

Their single engine plane was refueled each day from a pickup truck going 90 m. p. h. along a desert road. The men got hot meals in this manner.

Timm, a Las Vegas hotel executive, and cook, an airline pilot, said they actually enjoyed living more than two months aloft. But they said they weren't anxious to try again.

Industrialist Weds Mrs. Barbara Thorndike Pasadena, Calif. — (P) — Honey-mooning today were a blonde divorcee and a wealthy industrialist who had obtained a court order barring his mother from the wedding.

Mrs. Tessie Purmort was not among the 30 guests who watched her son, Louis Purmort, and Mrs. Barbara Jean Thorndike exchange vows in a quiet religious ceremony Saturday night.

Purmort, 34, obtained a court order last week barring his mother from the ceremony. Purmort said his mother threatened to kill him if he married the attractive 26-year-old mother of two.

Mrs. Purmort denied this and added that she never expects to see her son again.

Greece, Turkey Near Agreement on Plan for Independent Cyprus

Tentative Charter Would Offer NATO Control of Military Bases

Zurich, Switzerland — (P) — Greece and Turkey were reported near agreement today on a draft constitution for an independent Cyprus, with the Turkish minority to have a veto.

The negotiators were reported moving toward agreement that matters concerning foreign affairs, defense or internal security would have to be approved by both the Greek and Turkish communities.

CAB Investigators Check Doomed Plane's Instruments, Cockpit New York — (P) — The instrument panel of the American Airlines plane which crashed into the East river came under close scrutiny again today by investigators seeking some definite clue to the cause of the crash.

The nose section and cockpit of the plane were recovered Saturday night. Civil aeronautics board experts began studying the instrument panel yesterday.

A CAB spokesman said the whole cockpit, including the panel, was in excellent shape. He said a clock on the panel was still running when the front end of the airliner was pulled from the water.

Further Discussions The question of the garrisons may be left for further discussions when Prime Ministers Constantine Karamanlis of Greece and Adnan Menderes of Turkey meet later with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

As far as constitutional arrangements are concerned, Britain reportedly has informed Greece and Turkey it will accept any solution they agree on. The conferees here are keeping London closely informed of the progress of the talks.

Karamanlis and Menderes met privately today while Foreign Ministers Evangelos Averoff of Greece and Fatin Rustu Zorlu of Turkey continued their negotiations separately.

The two premiers had not met since two sessions on the opening day of the conference Friday.

The draft constitution, agreed on in principle between the two sides, would make the British colony an independent republic. But it specifies that no part of the island would ever become a part of Greece or Turkey.

There would be separate parliamentary bodies for the Turkish minority of 100,000.

Once Dauphin, Michigoyong, St. Joseph—Now Lake Michigan

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
Polpouri: Perhaps you don't care (although I think you ought to) that Lake Michigan has had at least 11 names through history. Some of them were Lake Illinovic, Lake Illinois, Lake Dauphin, Lake Michigoyong, Lake Michiganans, Lake Algonquonorum and Lake St. Joseph.

Do you know where to find the River of Immaculate Conception? Or the Rio Grand del Espirito? Or the Santo? Or The Great River? Or The River Colbert? Or the Sieur de La-Salle? Or the River Buade? Or the River Gastache? Or the Mechasip? Or the Messip?

Yes, you do; they were all names at one time or another for the Mississippi.

Lake Winnebago has been variously named The Lake of the Stinkards, Lac Outouagame, Lake Quennebagon and Lake Puan.

The only important body of water in Wisconsin which kept its original French name is Lake Superior. They called it Superieur although it, too, has had such names as Gitchee-Gumee, Grand Lake, Lac de Conde and Upper Lake.

If those names are unfamiliar to you, perhaps you'll be more at home with Lac de Gens de mer, or Enitajhe, or La Baye des Eaux Puants, or Lake of the People of the Sea, or La Baive Verte, or La Grand Baye. It's now called Green Bay.

My lady, if you don't know why those pretty shoes of yours are equipped with heels called "French heels," it may amuse you to know that King Louis XVI of France was a very short man and a pompous one. To give himself the regal bearing so important to a king, he equipped himself with high wooden heels. Ergo...

Sydney —P— A California lawyer, his wife and four children have come to Australia as migrants and full-time chicken farmers.

They are Edwin Saunders, his wife, and their children Linda 11, Donna 5, Robert 3, and Theresa 11 months. "I had a general law practice in Los Angeles, but chicken raising has always been my relaxation," Saunders said. "I raised 10,000 chickens in my spare time at Sonora near San Francisco."

Saunders said the family would live in Brisbane raise chickens and manufacture poultry equipment.

Unemployment In U. S. Nears 5 Million Mark

January Figures
May Attain or Pass That Point

Washington — Unemployment is climbing back close to the five million mark, economists reported today. They said a figure approaching that mark may be shown in the government's January count, due out tomorrow. Joblessness normally rises in the winter months because of the weather's effect on construction, farm and other outdoor activities. The five million mark has not been exceeded since last April, when the jobless count was 5,120,000.

Running Ahead

But in recent months joblessness has been running a little ahead of corresponding months a year ago. In December the total was 4,108,000 or 734,000 more than the 3,374,000 in December 1957.

The figure for January 1958 was 4,494,000, a jump of well over a million from December.

If the January 1958 idle total increases by anything like the million or so normally registered in that month, the total will be close to or over five million — and well over the figure for a year ago.

Not Too Surprising

The figures indicate that while business has improved substantially from its recession depths, the job picture still is gloomy.

This in itself is not too surprising. Employers normally

Gov. Nelson's Budget A Confounding Affair

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The first Gov. Nelson budget as laid before the legislature last week is an elusive and frustrating thing for anybody who wants to judge it—objectively or in a partisan way.

Wyngaard

It is incomplete, as its author admits. On the face of it the document may encourage the conservatives, for it contains a surprisingly tight rein on new spending. But at the same time the governor says he regrets that fact. He would have preferred more expenditures. It is high, in the sense that it over-shoots the existing revenue scheme and concedes the biggest deficit, perhaps, of any similar appropriation program ever sent to a legislature by any governor. But Gov. Nelson says he can cover that gap, by a package of tax revision bills the nature of which he does not reveal and perhaps won't for another month.

It is an extraordinary budget in other ways, including the fact that the governor assumes the right to make ground rules for his own convenience. All other governors worked according to the established code that a budget is a 2-year spending program. Nelson wants a 1-year budget, deferring the second year until he can study the tax situation. That gives him the most precious commodity a politician can want—as the state Chamber of Commerce has put it—which is time. It also gives him an advantage in making comparisons.

in precisely these circumstances?

The chances are that anybody else would have been tempted to do about the same thing. For the underlying and overwhelming truth of the matter is that the state is in a serious financial dilemma. Nelson may be somewhat more adroit in playing for time than might be Vernon W. Thomson, for example. But Vernon W. Thomson or any other probable alternative in the executive office would have been up against the hard fact that the budget cannot be balanced and would have had to search out new ways to extract more money from the collective purse of the body politic.

NOW THEN

It would be more candid to make the confession now, somebody might say. But with that conceded, how would a Republican governor have found a solution? The income tax? The surtax again? The politically volatile sales tax? It would have been a cruel question for anybody.

It may be that the Nelson tax study is an elaborate gesture and that the administration already has privately concluded what it will propose to find new millions in state treasury income.

But there is at least a chance that the investigation is being made in good faith and that it may show the way for an equitable and reasonable revision of the entire revenues scheme that most students of state finance know is long over-due.

If that is the result of this extraordinary budget proceeding, it will in the end justify the apparent fumbling and equivocation of today.

Important to Watch Asian, African News

From The Atlanta Constitution

It is important not to overlook news from Africa and Asia because there is where the great political struggle of the next decade or so will be resolved. When it is resolved we will know a great deal more about the shape of the political world to come.

Two items are important because they should be meaningful to us. In Accra, Ghana, where the first All-African Peoples' conference is in session, the prime minister of Ghana warned African nationalists to beware of new forms of colonialism carried out by non-European powers. This was a plain warning to be careful of the blandishments from Moscow, Peking and Cairo.

In Cairo, where an Asian-African economic conference is in session, Indonesia opposed seating the Russian delegation on the grounds it was "neither Asian nor African." The Soviet group finally was seated because they had been invited. But the temper of most of the delegates was to avoid any appearance of commitment to any of the great powers.

Red China, as Asian, is a power. We may expect to see her make great trade gains in this economic deliberation. The important point to note is that the Africans and Asians still free wish to remain so. They do not want to be dominated by any great power, or small one, for that matter. This should provide us with the basis for our policy approach.

People's Forum

Suggests Trapping Foxes and Shipment to Pacific Northwest

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The three assemblymen including one of our good (new) men from Appleton deserve a mild reprimand for introducing legislation to re-establish a bounty on foxes; first because there is a lot more purposeful legislative work to attend to, and secondly because this proposal is not at all constructive.

For one thing, this would only add more incentive to the group of men in this area who hunt foxes with an airplane. This may be sporty, but certainly not indicative of good sportsmanship.

These men are totally unlike and opposite to the growing number of bow in arrow hunters who have seemingly gone back to a set of rules preceded by the American Indian, who took no more than he could use, and was satisfied to compete with the game he sought on more equal terms.

This form of hunting is predatory, and those who participate are as much a predator as the fox himself. Here, a bounty on the hunter might be even more appropriate than on the hunted.

Now if these men used their airplane to facilitate the live trapping of foxes for shipment to help maintain a balance of nature in the Pacific Northwest, where they are presently overrun with fieldmice, they would deserve our congratulations for doing some real good.

Let there be good proportions of wildlife, fairly maintained, and especially the few foxes which remain, to help point up our pride in the Fox river valley.

Water Costing More and More

From A Report of the Public Service Commission

People are using more water: automatic washers, disposal units, airconditioning . . .

Since the Appleton utility's 1956 establishment of the initial schedule of surcharges for nonconservative airconditioning, five other utilities have imposed similar penalty charges on such use by equipment not designed for specified re-use of water.

The tendency to regard water if not as free as air, at least as plentiful, is being sharply jolted.

Looking Backward

Big Crowd Sees Burlesque Parade

79 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Feb. 14, 1880.

All Appleton was on tip-toe of expectation Monday afternoon, to witness the burlesque street parade, previous to the grand masquerade in the evening at Turner Hall.

The jolly procession finally made its appearance on the street, headed by the Germania Band. Following was the Goddess of Liberty in a golden chariot, supported by guards of honor in armor and carrying drawn swords.

Another chariot bore an impersonation of the Imperial Grant in 1885, smoking the inevitable cigar in all the lordly mien of a dictator. The chariot was labelled, "Useless Grant."

This was significant expression of German antagonism to Caesarism or the third-term question.

When passing the Crescent office Mr. Grant toppled over backward into the street, chariot and all. This was interpreted as an ill omen to Grantism.

Then came diminutive dogs and horses, ridden by masked boys, an animated bottle, an elephant and a Florida Cracker team going to market. Much fun was created for the multitude of beholders.

25 YEARS AGO

Monday, Feb. 5, 1934

Dr. V. F. Marshall was to address Rotary club. His subject was to be Our Hospitals.

Henry Haferbecker, town of Grand Chute, was pondering over the significance of his experience on "ground hog day". Although Mr. Haferbecker didn't encounter any ground hogs, he found a small owl settled comfortably in his mailbox, apparently anticipating the spring nesting season.

Dr. John Graff of the Lawrence Institute of Paper Chemistry spoke to High School Epworth league of First Methodist church on Vocational Guidance.

Mrs. Harold Heiler was general chairman of the carnival night which was to be held Saturday night at Memorial Presbyterian church. Mrs. E. W. Shannon was to be in charge of the supper, Miss Elizabeth Verhey of tickets, and Mrs. Gwendolyn Winegarner of booths. Miss Evangeline Wirick was to be candy chairman and Mrs. Heiler was to have charge of the bake sale.

Carl N. Drexler of Menasha was reelected president of the Fox valley district council of plumbers and steam fitters. Henry Bartz of Appleton was elected trustee.

Anti-Secrecy, With Exceptions

The quixotic tendencies of the liberals in our state politics probably won't be more aptly illustrated during the new legislature than in the proud announcement of the Democratic legislative leadership the other day about two changes in the state laws they propose to bring about.

They will offer bills to repeal the present statute that provides privacy for state income tax returns—as privacy has always been accorded by the national government and all other states with income taxes—and they will write another bill to assure secrecy of public welfare rolls.

Present law permits any interested persons to examine welfare payrolls. The case histories are not open. The private life and concerns of the individual aid recipient remain private. But the fact of a relief payment to a person is a public record.

Present law restrains public inspection of income tax returns. They are available to public officers and they are scrutinized and checked by a generous corps of auditors exclusively employed for that purpose. Anybody who is interested can ascertain the amount of tax any person or corporation has paid. But he cannot peruse the original documents, for reasons similar in logic and justification for those involved in welfare cases. They contain intrinsically private information.

We believe there is an essential right of privacy involved in both of these situations. The Democrats in the legislature do not. One family can be supported by public contributions and have the fact concealed, in their view. Another which is self-supporting ought to have its most intimate financial concerns bared to public view, including those who would make it a practice to haunt the income tax offices for purely commercial purposes.

The liberals have piously proclaimed that their purpose in demanding publicity for income tax returns is to help in the enforcement of the income tax laws. This is a fraudulent argument. The state tax commissioner has enormously increased his staff of collectors and auditors. If he doesn't yet have enough assistants to assure reasonable compliance with the income tax law, he need only make such a report to the legislature. It has listened respectfully every time he has discussed his budget needs.

This demand for unlimited examination of income tax returns arises from a combination of political malice and the base instinct of the snooper. Of what concern is it to the public that a man attends church, or does not, or supports a church, or does not, or gives to charitable causes, or does not, or borrows money, or does not, or how and in what he invests his money, or to whom he sells or from whom he buys?

Should the professional man be compelled to make a public disclosure of his clients? One man may believe in encouraging his 'teen age sons and daughters to take part-time employment during their school years. Is that a matter of concern to anyone except himself? Yet these and many other inherently private matters are contained on the income tax return filed with the state department of taxation annually. If the individual taxpayer complies with the literal provisions of the laws.

We wonder why Wisconsin Democrats are so insistent upon publicizing income tax returns here, when they are oblivious to the issue in Washington and in other states where their party rules.

Sen. Proxmire used to clamor on this question here, when he was vainly trying to win the governorship. He has been in Washington nearly two years and he has made no motions for opening up federal income tax returns to public inspection. We note that Gov. Nelson was silent on this foolishness in his general message to the legislature. We hope that means he has reconsidered the position of his party on the matter.

The Soviets' Real Target

Rodion Malinovsky, defense minister of the Soviet Union, and his boss, Nikita Khrushchev, again have fired their periodic boasts of Russian military superiority over the frantic but anemic might of the United States. They have grown more melodramatic with each appearance.

America lives on borrowed time and only by grace of the U. S. S. R., that great freedom-loving democracy whose appeals for peaceful co-existence have been so repelled so rudely by the warmongers of the west. That is the theme of Messrs. Khrushchev and Malinovsky.

A few dozen ballistic missiles, equipped with hydrogen bomb warheads, they imply, can expunge as many great American cities. Each of these messengers of death is already labeled "New York," "Chicago" and "San Francisco" and each will carry out its mission of destruction with pinpoint accuracy. That's all that's to it.

There is serious purpose behind all this shouting by the braggadocios of communism. It is pinpointed at the heart of capitalism—the economy of the United States. It is timed nicely to blow up the national budget by congressional insistence upon more billions for defense. It is the insidious and secret collaborator of the very American patriotism it means to destroy. It cries aloud for dollars and ever more dollars to secure this nation against military might that even now probably is more imagined than real.

President Eisenhower, in his budget message, stressed again and again the dangers of runaway inflation. Dollars cannot win the contest for military supremacy. They can even become the ally of Soviet Russia, for if Khrushchev and Malinovsky can burst the bubble of inflation into the greatest economic depression of American history, all the Soviets will have to do is to pick up the pieces. Then the pinpointed buffoonery will have gained its real goal.

left his son a fortune estimated at $75 millions. In the 128 years between the arrival of the original American Astor and his great-grandson's death there was virtually nothing by way of taxation to reduce the constantly growing millions.

Since Vincent Astor (he dropped the "William" early in life) has left no descendants and is survived only by his widow, most of his fortune presumably will go to the Vincent Astor Foundation. He may have more than doubled the wealth his father left him. If this fortune had been left to direct descendants, they would probably have received no more than about one-tenth of it—the federal and New York state governments would have been the principal beneficiaries.

New York Indians Fighting Legal Battle

From The Washington Post

The theater of the celebrated legal battle between the Tuscarora Indian tribe and the sovereign state of New York has, for the time being, been transferred to the hearing rooms of the Federal Power commission. At stake in the conflict are 1363 acres of Tuscarora land—or something more than a fifth of the whole tribal reservation—contiguous to the banks of the Niagara River. The New York authorities want to construct an immense hydroelectric plant and to inundate a considerable portion of the remainder of the land as a storage reservoir. They have offered the Tuscaroras what they consider a handsome price for the land—only a little less than $1.5 million—and have also promised by way of a bonus to construct a community center elsewhere on the reservation.

The Tuscaroras, however, prefer to keep their land. As one of their spokesmen put it recently, money—what with inflation, taxation and all that kind of thing—is at best an uncertain commodity, but the land is durable. To the reproach that they are wantonly interfering with progress, they reply that, having had some experience with progress in the course of their tribal history, they have a low opinion of it. The New York power authority, in support of its condemnation program, alleges that the Tuscaroras haven't been making good use of their land anyway, having put only a slight portion of it under cultivation. By way of rebuttal, one of their chiefs has cited the highly profitable annual picnic held on the reservation which he said is attended not only by members of the neighboring tribes but also by innumerable pale faces in search of wholesome outdoor pleasures. He observed that the most profitable of all the profitable sports at this picnic was the dart game, whereat, for a modest fee, one can enjoy the innocent amusement of throwing the things at an image of Mr. Robert Moses, chairman of the New York state power authority, with (or so we gather) special prizes for those able to puncture the colored balloon that serves as Mr. Moses' nose.

By a curious irony the case of the power authority is being prosecuted by the celebrated Judge Samuel Rosenman, who has recently established himself as something of an authority on juvenile delinquency, a disorder especially rife in his own tribal reservation of Brooklyn, N. Y. Judge Rosenman from time to time has made much of the fact that juvenile disorder is rarest among those racial minorities in which the tribal loyalties remain strongest—as, for example, among Confucians of New York's Chinatown. And progress or no progress, we can never recall having heard of any such problem as juvenile delinquency among the Tuscaroras or any other of our tribal Indians.

Mouseketeer Joins Danny Thomas Show

Annette Funicello, Very Busy Girl, Plays Exchange Student

BY JINGO The stage's been set and Tuesday night Annette Funicello, a busy young 16-year-old, moves into the Danny Thomas television show.

She'll play Gina, an exchange student from Italy. The family's teenage daughter has been written out of the script — on a trip to Europe, the "exchange."

Already receiving more fan mail than most adult film stars in the first 10, Miss Funicello'll be coming at you from all sides this month.

Last Friday you saw her as the daughter of the rancher accused of murder in "Elfego Baca," the latest "Walt Disney Presents" series. She returns to this role in the next Baca episode Feb. 20.

This coming Thursday you'll see her in "Adventure in Dairyland," the serialized story of a visit to a Wisconsin farm on "Walt Disney's Adventure Time."

Thursday, Feb. 26, she'll play a new arrival in California seeking help in finding "The Missing Father" on Zorro. In this case, it'll be the first of three appearances she'll make in that series. During the three shows she sings "Lonely Guitar," a song written especially for her.

Yup, she sings, too. And her top-selling recording of "Tall Paul" recently earned her guest spots on Dick Clark's daytime and Saturday night "Bandstand" shows.

If all this isn't enough, rush out and see the movie "Shaggy Dog" when it hits your favorite theater. She has one of the two ingenue leads.

Miss Funicello was a fixture of "The Mickey Mouse Club," another Disney venture, for some three years. In fact, in pleated skirt and cheerleader sweater, she became a national symbol for the Mouseketeers.

The girl started with dance lessons at age 5. At nine, she won a beauty contest and began modeling part-time. She had the lead in a "ballet versus jive" show at the Burbank, Ellington Calif., Bowl.

the night Disney spotted her in May, 1955.

Jingo gets tired just writing about all the activity.

The "Bell Telephone Hour" offers its second of four specials this season on NBC-TV Tuesday night. There's a little bit of most things musical in the cast: Ella Fitzgerald and Duke Ellington (jazz, man), Martha Wright and Russell Nype (musical comedy), Rise Stevens and Grant Johannesen (opera) and the New York City ballet.

Record Firms Show Increase

Where There Used To be 4 Companies, Now About 1,500

BY BOB THOMAS AF Movie-TV Writer

Hollywood — (P) — A handful of years ago there were four record companies in the United States. Today, there are more than 1,500.

No wonder record veterans exclaim the business has gone crazy!

What has the teenage revolution done to the record business?

The industry boomed from $75 million in 1939 to $400 million in 1957. Indications are that established record firms may have dropped in sales volume in 1958.

Last of Series

The reason is that teenagers have virtually taken over the single - record market. Their kind of music is largely unappealing to adults, who buy the albums. For that reason, major firms are putting more and more emphasis on the packaging of albums while newcomers scramble to sell singles to the kids.

Future Predictions Despite the 1958 dip, record moguls look forward to a continuing boom. Reasons: Expanding tastes in music for adults and the spread of hi-fi and stereophonic sets. Says Dot's Randy Wood, "I expect stereo to double the output of the record industry."

What about the teenagers? Most observers believe the kids will increase their hold on pop records. Some see hope in the rising interest in Latin music and the big bands. But these are small glimmers in an otherwise dark picture for those who dislike teenage music.

You gotta rock, Daddy-O, if you want to sell today.

state finalists. They were quite willing to settle for fourth place, even with a new necktie.

Jack Powers, Outagamie County agricultural agent, was state chairman of the awards program. He did the honors at the ceremony, and it was an agonizing countdown for the quartet of finalists.

First off the hook was Boyke, as the fourth place winner. Next came Boettcher, for third.

Made it. Then Powers began to recite the achievements of the runner-up, but it wasn't until he was half-way through that Dick and Vi knew for sure that they had made it all the way to the top.

Smithwick owns 230 acres and rents another 55 on Highway 54 a mile east of Casco. He went into partnership with his father, John, in 1946. An auto accident took his father's life in 1951, and Dick took over the farm on a land contract.

When Dick began farming his herd of Holsteins averaged 255 pounds of butterfat per cow; last year the figure was 470. He now has 55 head, up from 33, and when the judges visited him he was milking 27 head. He uses DHIA records to improve his herd and last year he had 15 registered Holsteins averaging 523 pounds of butterfat.

Dick has completed a soil conservation farm plan which includes strip cropping, ditching, woodlot management, wildlife planting and a planned crop rotation. He is a 4-H club leader, director of the Kewaunee County Holstein Breeders association, and active in his church.

His milk, Grade A, goes to the Lake-to-Lake cooperative and he uses the Badger Breeders service.

Four Major Farm Troubles, Jaycees Told

UW Extension Head Cites Changes in U. S. Agriculture

Post-Crescent News Service

Rhineland—Two hundred members of the Wisconsin Junior Chamber of Commerce were brought up to date on agriculture here Saturday evening.

Henry L. Ahlgren, associate director of extension at the University of Wisconsin, did the briefing as guest speaker at the Jaycees' quarterly convention honoring Wisconsin's outstanding young farmers.

Four major problems confront agriculture today, Ahlgren said.

Creeping Inflation

"The first is a creeping type of inflation that squeezes the farmer between high prices that he has to pay for the things he needs and low prices that he is able to get for things he sells."

This leads to the economics of scale. The cost-price squeeze forces the farmer to become larger, in order to increase his volume, and it compels him to become more efficient.

"The third major problem is surplus which tends to depress prices," Ahlgren said.

Fourth Problem

"The fourth is the problem of marketing. Some farmers are organized so that they have something to say about what they get for their products but the great majority of them are not. As agriculture grows the size of farms will increase, but the number of people needed to operate them will decrease.

"Farming—the actual production of crops, milk and livestock—will provide a satisfactory living for only 10 to 15 per cent of our farm boys."

Ahlgren asserted. "All factors with reference to road improvements and speeds were known or should have been known for the past 30 years. Counties have a duty to keep them in repair and safe."

BY NATE POLOWETZKY

Tokyo — Some old and firm friends of Korea are concerned about the future of democracy in the young republic. They are worried that parliamentary government and the two party system are endangered.

On one hand they are concerned that President Syngman Rhee's ruling liberal party — despite constant denials — might try to remain in power by a campaign of harassment and attrition against opposition newspapers and politicians in an effort to silence them.

On the other hand, they are worried that these tactics might stir such resentment among the opposition and the public that they will lose faith in democratic procedures.

Civil Defense Not Just Words to This Family: They Built Shelter

Portsmouth, Ohio — Ralph and Joyce Armbrister live in a frame house here with their three children and do just about the same things that other American families do.

With one exception, that is. The Armbristers have spent the last two years creating a special survival shelter in the brick house next door where Joyce's uncle lives.

It's an area about 10 by 7 feet in a brick-walled fruit storage room. The family has equipped it with three bunks, a pantry of canned foods, 12 gallon jugs of drinking water (refilled every few weeks), a canned heat stove, battery radio, rifle, shotgun, ammunition, matches (the latter two in a milk can to keep out moisture) and other equipment.

Emergency Tools

"We even have a crowbar to use in case we have to pry our way out," Mrs. Armbrister adds.

The shelter would be used, of course, in case of enemy air attack.

On the chance a nuclear raid makes food scarce, the Armbristers have put animal-traps in the shelter. There are greater blast resistance than also sleeping bags, blankets, the Armbrister house, and vitamin tablets and games for cause it can be reached quickly from their home.

However, Mrs. Armbrister says: "We feel we should have plenty of advance warning of a coming raid because of the radar installations the nation has been developing."

She is chairman of the local Parent-Teacher Association's Civil Defense committee, and the Armbristers are convinced other American families should also be planning for the possibility of an attack.

"I'm scared," says Mrs. Armbrister. "Aren't you?"

Brick Construction

They chose the uncle's house because its brick construction would probably offer traps in the shelter. There are greater blast resistance than also sleeping bags, blankets, the Armbrister house, and vitamin tablets and games for cause it can be reached quickly from their home.

In Good Taste Question on Guest Who Overdrinks

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: When a hostess gives a party and one of her guests seems to be drinking too much, can she refuse to serve him any more liquor? We live in the suburbs and many of our friends have to drive back to the city after a party and I feel it my responsibility that they get home safely. Is there a tactful way to handle this situation?

Answer: In a small church where the members of the congregation are all friends, such an invitation would be entirely practical, and therefore proper.

Thank-You Cards

Dear Mrs. Post: I think a printed thank-you card is cold and says little in the way of thanks. And yet we are receiving them quite regularly. So often in fact, that a thank-you note is beginning to be a rarity. So I wondered maybe they are today approved by etiquette?

Answer: Much as I like the idea of printed cards for a day preceding the wedding, a printed "thank you" for a real kindness, is unthinkable — unless a warm message has been added by hand.

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLIER

The feeling is long gone that workers in an office should be satisfied with the bare bones of practical equipment until they arrive as executives, at which point they achieve their own brooding dark oak imitations of baronial halls. Some of the brightest minds in the home designing business set to work to create luxurious but happy offices for the busy business man, so he can feel important and very much at ease at the same time.

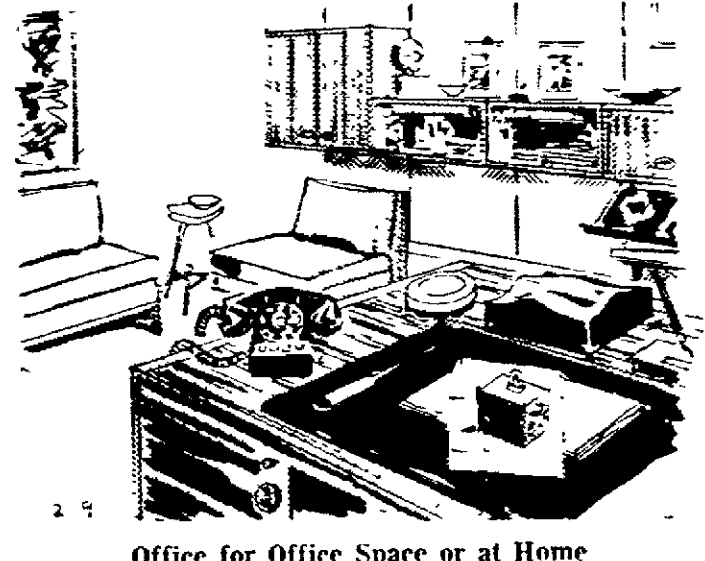

Edward J. Wormley, who as the most followed of designers for many years, now turns his talents office - ward. A clean-cut, simple desk has beautifully molded edges and rosewood pulls. Storage room hangs from the wall a tall cabinet server with telephone booth-like doors, double hinged to fold out of the way in no space, two shadow boxes with their own lighting and another door cabinet which attaches to a slanting magazine rack below.

Mrs. H. V. "Until we move into the new home we hope for I'd like your help in decorating our living room as smartly and inexpensively as possible. If we paint our walls when it isn't in use and that walls what color should they be and what do you suggest on the for draperies?" The two-piece sectional is turquoise with tiny more.

black spots and gold threads. Two coral chairs also gold threads and two end tables a corner table and a coffee table are blond. A bronze floor lamp has a coral shade, and I need new lamps to go on the end tables. Could the blond woods be stained darker successfully? What materials should be used?"

A good plan for you would be to leave the walls white and choose a drapery fabric with the turquoise and a little charcoal patterned sparingly on a white background. A darker finish for the woods would be better in this scheme, and the advice you need, too detailed to appear here, is provided by my book, "Furniture Refinishing," which will be mailed to you for 15 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Keep the shades for the new lamps in white, but the bases can be gold or brass or the darker wood color.

Mrs. S. Z. Everyone in my new neighborhood has plastic covers for upholstered furniture and as far as I can see leaves them on all the time. What is your stand on this? I believe that plastic covers are smartly and inexpensively as for the protection of furniture possible. If we paint our walls when it isn't in use and that walls what color should they be and what do you suggest on the for draperies?" The two-piece sectional is turquoise with tiny more.

Mardi Gras Fat Tuesday Brings Doughnut, Pancake

If you were on a quiz program or engaging in that popular sport of rating yourself on definitions, what would be your score on the meaning of Mardi Gras?

Perhaps you would associate the term with the gay celebration staged in New Orleans and many foreign countries on the days preceding Lent. This culminates on Shrove Tuesday, or Mardi Gras. Literally translates as Fat Tuesday. This was the day when there was feasting indeed.

Undoubtedly, in olden times tables groaned under the weight of sirloins of beef and legs of mutton, but it is the pancakes, doughnuts and fritters that are stressed in the annals of the period. The tossing of pancakes by school boys and the ringing of the church bells to call the populace to pancakes and fritters are associated with Shrove Tuesday.

On this day doughnuts and crullers are featured by bake shops. Because of family customs they may even be made in your kitchen.

Home-Style Doughnuts

4 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon or allspice
1 teaspoon rum
3 tablespoons shortening
1 cup milk
Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Cream shortening, add sugar slowly and cream until fluffy. Stir in well-beaten eggs. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk stirring well after each addition. Roll dough 1/2 inch thick on lightly floured board and cut with doughnut cutter.

Fry in deep hot fat (375 degrees) until golden brown turning once. Drain on soft paper and sprinkle with powdered sugar if desired.

Note: The use of egg yolks rather than whole eggs produces a particularly tender doughnut.

Griddle Cakes

1 cup cornmeal
1 cup sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, well beaten
2 cups milk
1 cup shortening, melted

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine well - beaten egg and milk and stir into dry ingredients. Stir in shortening. Add more milk if necessary to make a thin batter. Bake on both sides on ungreased hot griddle.

Chief Medicine Taster Has Sampled 700 Pills, Potions

New York — Mrs. Shirley Morabito has tasted 700 medicines in the last three years — and never felt better in her life.

In fact she hasn't missed work a single day because of illness.

Trying out pills and potions destined for other people is the unusual career of Mrs. Morabito, a medical gourmet with one of the most educated palates in the wonderful world of drugs.

She is chief medicine taster for a pharmaceutical company.

Fascinating

"It is endlessly fascinating," said Mrs. Morabito. "The taste test is the last step in research. No matter how beneficial a new medicine may be, it has to taste right today to win public acceptance. If people won't take it because they dislike the taste it can't do them any good."

There are only four basic tastes — salt, sweet, sour and bitter. But they can be masked with thousands of different blended flavors.

Unfortunately for mankind most medicines, new or old, big role in the psychology of medicine.

The average person can detect a bitter taste in one fifth of an ounce of caffeine mixed in a quart of water. Mrs. Morabito can detect the same amount of caffeine mixed with 25 quarts of water.

But Mrs. Morabito doesn't depend on her own fine palate. What suits one person may not suit another. So she has assembled and trained a test panel of 40 expert co-workers to help her.

The problem of taste in new children's medicines is even more critical. To assist in field testing these she has a juvenile jury of some 60 children of company employees.

Both color and taste play a

Young Gold-Digger Gives a Poor Male the Run-Around

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a senior in high school and my steady girl is giving me a fit. She breaks up with me when ever she gets a chance to date someone else but if I even look at another girl she screams bloody murder.

Last week she accepted a date with another guy who lives out of town, so I asked her girl friend for a date the same night. She heard about it in school, cried all through study hall and her eyes swelled up like two balloons. Finally the school nurse asked me to drive her home.

I bought this girl a set of matched luggage for her birthday and a typewriter for Christmas. Valentine's day I sent her an orchid and a $20 teddy bear. She uses my car whenever she feels like it. I take her to all the best places and treat her like the Queen of Sheba. What is wrong with our love anyway? — DICK

Call it "love" if you want to; I call it a case of a foolish boy trying to buy a girl's affection, and the little gold-digger is taking him for all she can lay her hands on.

The gifts you describe are pretty rich for anybody's blood, let alone a high school kid. I was surprised to see your letter came from Salt Lake City. I thought surely you must be from Houston or Dallas and had a couple of oil wells pumping in the back yard. Such spending is neither sensible nor in good taste.

My advice is to drop this Greedy Gerie and date other girls. And quit trying to make like Trujillo or you'll only attract more dames with dollar signs on the eyeballs.

DEAR ANN: A problem concerning my mother is making me sick. She's almost 70, and the most wonderful woman God ever made. Be her very comfortable. She fore Dad passed on he said prefers her own small place. "Son, don't ever let Mom We send her checks which want for anything — she's an she refuses to cash. We've angel." But she won't let us tried to hand her money, but do anything for her. she won't take it. She does

I have two sisters who baby-sitting and has more would like mother to live with them. My wife and I want her, too, but she won't move in with any of us. We all have large homes and could make can take care of herself she wants to do it and when she's no longer able to work she'll go to a home.

What can we do with a mother like this? Please help us. — WE THREE

Dear Three: Continue to love her and permit her the independence of spirit which helps to make her such a remarkable woman.

Send her flowers. Buy her a nice coat. Invite her to your home to spend Sunday but don't try to support her. She's much happier this way.

Social Security

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I work as an employee in a local factory. What will the social security tax be on my earnings this year?

A. You began this January to pay a social security tax of 2 1/2 per cent on the first $1,800 of your earnings. Your employer will match this tax with an equal amount.

Q. I will be paid this month for work which I performed for my employer last December. What rate of social security tax will I have to pay on these earnings?

A. The new 2 1/2 per cent applies to wages paid in 1959, even if the wages are paid for work done in 1958.

Q. I understand that for the month of January, 1959, there is a new maximum social security benefit. What is the maximum benefit that a retired worker can receive?

A. For the month of January the new maximum benefit is $116 for a retired worker. For those who become eligible for benefits in the future, payments may be as high as $127.

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

Players who false-card indiscriminately, without rhyme or reason, are not apt to be very successful, since opponents quickly learn their habits and guide themselves accordingly. There are, however, opportunities for shrewd false-card plays that are widely neglected. For example:

South, dealer.

North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
S-7	H-A K J	D-6 4	C-A K J 7 3 2
WEST
S-Q J 10 8	S-9 6 5 3 2	H-10 8 7 4	H-Q 9
D-2	D-10 9 3	C-8 6 5	C-10 8 4
SOUTH
S-A K 4	H-6 5 3 2	D-A K 8 7 5	C-Q

This deal occurred in a duplicate game, and the bidding at almost every table went as follows:

South	West	North	East
1 D	Pass	3 C	Pass
3 D	Pass	4 N T	Pass
5 H	Pass	6 D	Pass
Pass	Pass

Every West opened the queen of spades, and, after winning, every declarer laid down a top trump. When West followed suit with the deuce and East with the three, the other high trump was then led by declarer. The queen fell, and these North-South pairs scored an extra trick.

Only one East in the field had the imagination to give his adversary something to think about when the first trump honor was led. This defender followed suit with the ten — and by that simple little device shut out the over-trump. Declarer gave him a suspicious glance, but, after all, the ten could be an honest play, a singleton, and South didn't want to lose the slam contract by putting down the other high diamond and then discovering that West had really started with Q-9-3-2.

South reluctantly decided to make the standard safety play against the 4-1 break: he led a low trump toward the remaining J-6 in dummy, to guard against the loss of two trump tricks. So West made his trump queen, and that was enough to give his side a good match-point score.

counts for this perversity? It is due, me-thinks, to uncertainty over the becomingness of a new style. Unlike a hat, a woman cannot try a hair style before she buys, and so she skips it. But not you, for you are about to learn a formula for pre-judging flattery. It is this:

A hair style must be proportioned — sized up or down — to the height and girth of your figure. It must be shaped to ovalize your face and minimize a negative feature. The rule here is: Never let a line in your hair repeat an undesirable line in your face.

A style must be easy to manage, the key to manageability is simplicity and professional cutting. It must endorse your personality and will, when designed according to the above advice. Each conspires toward individualization.

With these rules to guide you, it's safe to update your hair-do any time the whim strikes. Let it be more often.

Alarm Clock Serves as Mother's Little Helper

BY ANGELO PATRI

One of the finest household aids a family can own is a reliable alarm clock.

Nobody likes a direct order. That grates on his feeling of personal dignity and he resents it.

He doesn't feel so resentful when the alarm clock calls him. That's different. The clock has no designs upon his freedom, not planned anyway. It just rings because it was set. It's time to get up and one has to go and that's that and no argument.

Children even more so than adults, resent direct commands, so wise mothers use the alarm clock to give the necessary commands as often as it will work. This must be learned by experience.

Set the alarm to rouse the school children. Let it suffice. Try not to reinforce its call with a direct order. That weakens the clock's authority. If it is not obeyed, let the culprit take the consequence of lateness. He will soon respect the clock.

Use the alarm clock to mark the end of playtime when the children are playing in the house before mealtime. A child absorbed in his play is not likely to respond immediately to a call to come to the table. His whole being, mind and body, are centered on his game and must be allowed gradually to withdraw and turn to something else.

Set the alarm to call about five minutes before it is time to stop wash hands and brush hair for the appearance at the table. This will save wear and tear on both parents and children.

A busy mother can save her nervous energy by setting a timer on the stove to ring for her attention; on the clock to remind her that it is time to give the child his medicine, to end his rest period, to bring him in from play. She can set it to mark his bedtime and he will obey it more cheerfully than he will her reminder.

Like all other mechanical helps the mind that directs its use is all important. Most of us can use such a device profitably.

Somebody Nabs Stolen Radio From Hideout

Thomson, Ga. — Sheriff Lynn Norris arrested Willie Hampton on a charge of stealing a radio from an ice house in October.

Hampton admitted the theft and took the sheriff to a vacant house where the radio had been hidden. It was gone, Norris said someone had stolen it from Hampton.

Nelson Expects Compromise on Churches Slate Special Own Tax Views

UW Professors on Study Group Won't Be Making Policy

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Gov. Nelson told a press conference today he expects he will be required to compromise his own views when he works out a final state tax program for his term.

The governor also declared, 7:30 p.m. devotions, and at all in response to Republican criticisms in the legislature, that the philosophical views of the University of Wisconsin professors named to a tax study group are not important to their conclusions about the impact of Wisconsin taxes upon individuals and business.

Republicans have charged the members of the university research panel, as shown by their previous record, are not beginning the Democratic state administration's tax investigation with open minds. Nelson explained that he had not chosen the professors — they were named by the university at his request. The university experts have been invited to find the facts, not to recommend policy, he emphasized.

Citizens Group

The governor will set policy after he consults with a citizens commission later in the year in preparation for a special tax-writing session of the Madison, Republican holdovers, will expire this spring. Under law, the governor could name the successors as early as Feb. 15 to take office in June. There are six members of the commission.

Drafting Bill

Gov. Nelson reported he has virtually finished the draft of a bill providing a screening system for the selection of conservation commissioners.

Proposes Commission

In his message to the legislature last month he proposed the creation of an economic resources commission with an advisory committee for the promotion of natural resource development that would suggest candidates for his appointment to the commission.

Members of the commission serve without pay. Governors usually have named them from the ranks of active outdoorsmen or conservationists. There is a considerable sentiment in the legislature this session for the reorganization of the commission on a full-time basis.

Statement Indicates U. S., Britain to Stand Pat on Berlin

London — A British foreign office spokesman said today the question of whether there is a risk of war over Berlin "lies solely with the Soviet government."

"The Soviet government," the spokesman said, "should be in no doubt about the determination of the Western powers to maintain their rights in Berlin."

The spokesman also said Britain is in complete agreement with U.S. Secretary of State Dulles' statement in Bonn Sunday that the Western allies will make no concessions on Germany without counter - concessions from Russia.

The statement was taken as an indication that Britain, like the United States, is determined to maintain access to Berlin even if the communists try another blockade.

Methodist Representation Biggest In Congress; Catholics are Second

New York —F— Religion-wise, Methodists have the biggest representation in the new congress. There are 90 of them.

Roman Catholics run second, with 79 members of the house and senate; Baptists third, with 62; Presbyterians fourth, with 56, and Episcopalians a close sixth, with 51.

The figures were released by the southern Baptist convention, after a survey by its Washington office of available biographies of members of the 86th congress.

The report said 79 congressmen listed no religious affiliation.

Methodists top the list in both houses.

In the senate, Baptists are second and Roman Catholics third. But in the house, the order is reversed, with the over-all edge to Catholics.

Lead In House

Similarly, the Episcopalians have the fourth largest delegation in the senate, but Presbyterians outnumber them by their lead in the house.

Here is the breakdown:

Senate — Methodist, 17; Baptist, 15; Roman Catholic, 12; Episcopal, 12; Presbyterian, 11; Congregational Christian, 7; Lutheran, 4; Unitarian, 4; "Protestant", 4; Latter-Day Saints, 2; Disciples of Christ, 2; Friends, 2; Unaffiliated, 1.

Carbon Monoxide Gas Sure Killer During Winter Months

By Carl N. Neupert, M. D.

During the coming winter months a number of Wisconsin residents will become needless victims of a treacherous killer that attacks without the slightest warning.

They will be killed by carbon monoxide — a gas that cannot be detected by sight, taste or smell. In 1957 it accounted for 12 accidental gas deaths in Wisconsin; the year before, a total of 14. All but one or two of these were caused by exhaust fumes from motor vehicles.

Always present in the exhaust from automobile engines, carbon monoxide is produced by incomplete burning of solid, liquid, or gaseous fuel. It sickens and kills because it cuts off the oxygen (or fresh air supply) from the tissues of the body. This can happen to anyone when ever the air is contaminated with sufficient amounts of the gas.

Describe Symptoms

When a person is exposed to carbon monoxide in a place without proper ventilation, it produces a headache, accompanied by dizziness, and an extremely tired and sleepy feeling. This is followed by shortness of breath, nausea, vomiting and even unconsciousness and death.

Only two or three minutes' time are required to produce a dangerous concentration of carbon monoxide in a garage or other closed place. This is the reason safety experts recommend adequate ventilation as the best means of protection.

Even outdoors a defective exhaust system may permit gas to accumulate inside a closed car. This is why it is a wise idea to keep a window open slightly when parking with the motor running, or driving — even in the coldest weather. For your added safety, you should have the exhaust system checked frequently for possible defects.

These few simple precautions could make a big difference for any one of us this winter. The resulting minor inconvenience could turn out to be of major importance in preventing a possible emergency.

Japanese Techniques Rated 'Terrifying'

Sydney —F— An Australian textile executive, R. J. Webster, says the efficiency of the Japanese textile industry is "terrifying."

He meant it is terrifying to competitors in other countries.

Webster, managing director of Bradford Cotton Mills, Sydney, recently returned from a visit to Japan. He said the Japanese had better management techniques than any other country in the world.

Some Japanese factories, he said, went three or four years without losing time because of accidents.

Citizens Attempt Agreement on UW Extension Center Site Today

County Board Committees Deadlock; Failure Of Private Groups May Jeopardize Project

BY JACK GLASNER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton citizens committees from three cities are meeting today to attempt agreement on a site for the University of Wisconsin extension center in the Fox south of Appleton. However, a stalemate could endanger the whole extension project. Wednesday the combined Menasha and Outagamie county board special committees deadlocked on a site for the proposed $500,000 building. The Appleton group, headed by former State Sen. Gordon A. Bubolz, has indicated it cannot approve of the 10-acre Menasha site, just north of Menasha on County Trunk P. The combined county board committees indicated they were at a loss to select either the Midway road or the Menasha site. The citizens committees today face the identical selection, except the possible addition of the Outagamie hospital farm location, which probably would be no more acceptable to the Winnebago county and Menasha contingents than the Kaukauna site. As matters stand, the county board committees have asked the citizens groups to make the site selection. The county boards have indicated in their lengthy debates that each would like the extension in their own county. Each board has appropriated $250,000, contingent upon selection of a site agreeable to it.

The participation of the university was based on a 2-county sharing of costs to build an extension building. If either county backs out or decides to build the center alone, the UW board of regents would have to reconsider providing academic facilities. The board of regents has asked $145,000 in its current budget to provide teachers' and academic equipment. The counties are responsible only for building and maintaining the extension's quarters. The $500,000 estimate for a 40,000-square-foot building does not include the site cost. All backers for all sites have indicated the sites would be given to the county or counties.

Since the first public debate about a new extension center a year ago, Kaukauna, Menasha and Appleton examined several sites. Each settled on one site. Each presented arguments in favor of its site to its own county board special committee.

Problems Could Arise

The board committees told the citizens group selection had to be made between Menasha and Midway.

If the citizens groups cannot compromise on a site, several problems immediately arise.

1. Where will the UW extension be this fall? Renting of downtown quarters in Menasha may not be possible and the vocational school wing of Menasha High school probably will not be available. Appleton, Neenah and Menasha this year contributed $4,000 for rental of the extension's quarters.

2. Will the UW board of regents agree to an extension built by one county after giving the green light to a 2-county venture to serve the Fox Cities?

3. Will Outagamie or Winnebago county be willing to spend $500,000 for the extension center? It has been estimated that the planned building will be sufficient for 350 students, or until about 1965. Then would have to be expanded. Estimates of $1 million investment by that time have been forecast by extension backers.

Drivers Get Second Year's Pay Increase

Hike Comes Under Terms of 3-Year Teamster Contract

Over-the-road and local cartage truck drivers belonging to Teamsters' Local 563, Appleton, received their second pay boost Feb. 1 under a 3-year contract signed a year ago.

Over-the-road drivers received a 7-cent hourly increase, bringing their base to $2.33 per hour.

Local drivers, those who deliver within a 25-mile radius of Appleton, also received a 7-cent raise, bringing their hourly base to $2.54.

Hourly Rates

Hourly rates include automatic 3-cent and 1-mill unit rate boosts for cost of living last August.

The drivers' mileage rates were increased 1-cent per mile. New unit rates are single axle, 8.775 cents; 4-axle, 9.025 cents; 5-axle, 9.15 cents, and tandem axle, 40.000 pounds or over, 9.275 cents.

Drivers are paid hourly rate or unit calculation, whichever is greater.

The hourly base rate goes to $2.57 per hour in 1960. Last year's increase hiked drivers' base rate from $2.23 to $2.43.

About 350 drivers working for eight firms in the area are affected by the increase.

New York to Have New Luxury Hotel

New York — The first luxury hotel to be built here since 1931 is in the works.

William Zeckendorf, chairman of Zeckendorf Hotels corporation, yesterday announced plans for erection of a 48-story hotel on a site adjacent to Rockefeller Center near Radio City Music hall.

Ground-breaking ceremonies are scheduled about 60 days from now and the hotel is earmarked for completion in 1961. The cost is estimated at $66 million including the land on the Avenue of the Americas (Sixth avenue) between Fifty-first and Fifty-second streets.

The area is now a parking lot except for a building occupied by Toots Shor's restaurant. Shor has sold the lease on the property and is seeking a new location.

The new hotel is to be named the Zeckendorf and is being put up by the Zeckendorf corporation, a subsidiary of Webb and Knapp, Inc.

Original Eden Site Believed to Be Found

Bahrain, Persian Gulf — A British archeologist believes Bahrain may have been the site of the Garden of Eden.

Dr. Geoffrey Bibby told a news conference it was "overwhelmingly likely" the Persian gulf island was once the city of Dilmun mentioned in an ancient epic as the original abode of Adam and Eve. He cited the Gilgamesh epic, which refers to Eden as a desert spot made fertile through a God-given spring. Bibby said a Danish archeologist had confirmed that Bahrain became fertile several thousand years ago following a period as a desert.

Dulles' Latest Trip Is Desperate Venture

Goes Off to Sell Western Firmness, Unity Among Some Rather Sombre Omens

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Washington — No one has made very much of John Foster Dulles's latest journey to London, Paris, and Bonn. Maybe because perpetual motion is now expected of the secretary of state. But this is not just another Dulles trip. This is a crucial, even desperate venture.

Alsop

The truth is that the loudly proclaimed western united front on Berlin is by no means as firm or as united as it has been made to seem. Dulles has gone off to peddle western firmness and unity amid some pretty sombre omens. The Soviets, to begin with, have been using language about Berlin at the communist party congress in Moscow that is even more menacing, if anything, than the language Nikita Khrushchev used before the NATO meeting in Paris. The threats to Berlin have been underlined by Marshal Rodion Malinovsky's public brandishing of the new Soviet intercontinental missiles. As a further gesture, just as Dulles departed, an American military convoy was denied its guaranteed right of free passage on the Berlin-Helmstedt highway. London Center The Macmillan decision to go to Moscow must be doubtfully regarded, simply because London is the center of western disunity — one might almost say the center of western softness — on the grum Berlin issue. The London attitude was most clearly manifested in the talks about the Berlin problem that have been held here between Deputy Sec. of State Robert Murphy and the British and French ambassadors, Sir Harold Caccia and Herve Alphand. British objections to a firm and clear contingency plan for Berlin brought the talks to a virtual impasse. Here, in truth, is the main cause for the latest Dulles journey abroad. A contingency plan is a de-tailed program of what we will do and when and how, if the Soviets start actively pre-paring a renewed Berlin blockade by their East German puppets. Such a plan is now doubly necessary. Since the Soviets have stalled radar-jamming mechanisms all around the threat-ened city, it is no longer possible to sustain Berlin by air forces, and the president has lifted for more than 18 months gone quail shooting with Sec. Dulles and the American joint chiefs of staff have

This is typical of the sort of jokes in vogue among America's teenagers today. One of our recent nation wide surveys showed clearly that the ordinary "funny" joke has given way to the new-style "sick" joke. Nearly 80 per cent of those queried said they or their friends tell such jokes.

one to be sent a fat person, groups of jokes. Here are which says: "Want to lose 10 samples in each group, as ugly pounds? . . . Cut off your they were told to interview-head!"

But nearly 31 per cent said they still prefer the traditionally sentimental greeting cards.

Fifty-five per cent of those questioned about greeting cards said they had sent cards which could be taken as an insult if sent to the wrong person.

Most of these teenagers had 500-pound canaries, an attitude similar to that of Miscellaneous: Nancy C. Mitchell, 18, Wash- "I don't care who you are, ington. D. C. "Yes — the following type: Terry Braemer, 15, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He said: "One thing good about them for someone nice. Please forward." But one must choose carefully those to whom these cards are sent."

Some Examples
In the joke-telling part of the survey, we found there are three main types or Pastor Karel Lunde of the Hitterdalen-Norland parish and Pastor J. P. Hultstrum of Our Savior's Lutheran church in Iola will participate in the exchange.

La. Lois. who disapproves of this humor, said:

"They are called dry and cruel jokes because they make fun of something that isn't funny."

It appears that while teenagers tell these jokes, no one expects to get a belly-laugh out of them.

As Dick Douglas, 14, Salt Lake City, explained, "Instead of laughing, most people say, 'Oh, how awful,' after hearing one of them."

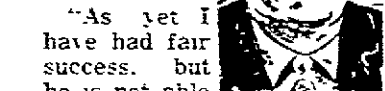

While cruel, sad, sadistic, horror, gory, sacrilegious and sick were used to describe the jokes, 30 per cent used the word "morbid" as their best description.

Another reflection of this trend in humor was obtained by polling the teenagers about their choice of greeting cards. They were asked whether they select sentimental, animal comic or the new studio type when buying greeting cards for birthdays or other events.

More than 65 per cent expressed preference for the new studio type — such as

As a general rule—although I know of plenty of exceptions—training with the B.M. is easier than training the child to stay fit.

Training a child for bowel action is usually a matter of observing when the usual time of action occurs, and then taking the youngster to the bath room then—with a small glycerin suppository used if at times, there is no activity.

Child Not Ready
Training the wet child is likely to be harder. Sometimes a child doesn't realize the significance of the matter. Another cause may be a form of reaction, or a reaction to overindulgence on the part of the parent. You can't ignore the matter entirely after the child begins to understand.

This may have been the case with Mrs. G. R.'s youngster. She may have started training a little bit sooner than the boy was able to understand—and perhaps ignored the matter later, when the child was ready to understand it. In this, I cannot blame the

In this I cannot blame the mother. It isn't easy to figure out exactly when a child is ready to learn. So sometimes there is a lack of "meeting of the minds."

POST CRESCENT News of the Twin Cities Neenah - Menasha

Study Changes in Menasha Wards

New System Would Include 10 Aldermen for City in 1960

Menasha — Studies of the distribution of population have been made in anticipation of ward changes according to Mayor R. G. DuCharme.

The studies and any proposals that will be made to the city council will not affect any of the elections scheduled for this year. They would apply to the 1960 elections however.

Block Populations
DuCharme said the study has been necessitated because of the over-balance in some wards. A committee has listed block by block population figures on a map of the city. Figures were taken from a city directory and although they will not be correct to the detail since the directories are two years old, they will provide an accurate basis to work with.

With the block by block figures, the committee will be able to break the city up into a higher number of wards with a more even number of residents in each one.

Locate Wards
Mayor DuCharme said it is probable that the new setup would include 10 wards. Two would be located in the Island and eight in the other part of the city.

DuCharme pointed out that the study is being made on the basis of figures for all persons living in the city not only voters. Total population figure under the block by block estimates is 13,576. This figure may vary slightly from the true population because of changes in the past two years.

At the present time Menasha has five wards. If a 10 ward system would go into effect it would double the city's representation on the county board.

City Crews to Scrape Menasha Streets Tonight
Menasha — City streets will be scraped tonight in an effort to remove snow and ice which accumulated over the weekend.

Crews were busy salting icy intersections throughout the day in order to get the packed base loose for the graders.

City Engineer Melvin Noth said it is becoming a problem to find an area to dump snow. He said other cities and communities are faced with the same situation because of the heavy snowfall in the past month. Noth said the next possible move which is being studied is plowing an area of Lake Winnebago open and dumping snow on the ice.

Speeder Forfeits

Boys' Brigade Host to 14 Squads, 71 Shooters in NRA Section Contest

Neenah — Green Bay Pre-montre High school's ROTC first team took first place in the National Rifle association junior sectional tournament at the Boys' Brigade building Saturday and its second team received the high honors in the military division of which it was the only contestant.

Carl Guenther, Fond du Lac, last year's NRA national high scorer, paced the 71 individual shooters with 382 out of a possible 400. Second place went to P. Capick of Fond du Lac with a 372.

William Servans of Green Bay and Brian Mayer of Hammond, Ind., tied for third with 364 scores and Ronnie Larson of Neenah was next with a 362 tally. Bonnie Zeumer of Brigade Girls team had the top honor for girls with a 348.

1,425 Score
Premontre's first team turned in a 1,425 score while Southtown YMCA Junior Rifle club of Chicago was second with 1,419. Milwaukee county's Boy Scout entry had 1,415 for third and the American Marksman club first team of Fond du Lac turned in a 1,414 tally.

Neenah's Brigaders team came in eighth with a 1,349 result and its girls team contributed a 1,235 score. Appleton's Y Structural Stealers rubbish will be collected Wednesday in the Third, Fifth, Eighth and Tenth wards. Rubbish should be on the curb by 7 a. m.

Neenah Water Rate Minimum Up 60 Cents

State Commission Sets $3.60 Per Quarter Charge for Initial Consumption

Neenah — Residents will pay 60 cents more per quarter as their minimum water rate, according to an order of the state public service commission which Friday approved an increase in the Neenah water rates.

Mayor Chester S. Bell said today that city officials and the waterworks commission have not had a chance to review the revised rates or to comment on them. The rates set by the state may be accepted or appealed by the commission if it desires any changes.

The new rates effective with the next meter reading the state public service commission decreed will provide the Neenah water utility with a 5.5 per cent return on its investment.

It will increase the utility's revenue by $44,433, of which $8,750 is to come from fire protection service and $35,683 from general service. The fire protection service is for hydrant rental charges to the city or private hydrants.

$3.60 Per Quarter
The minimum quarterly rate under the PSC order will be $3.60 for the first 6,000 gallons of water, up 60 cents from the $3 rate which had been charged for those with a five-eighths inch meter, used in most homes.

Warriors Seek to Lengthen Streak on De Paul Court

Shoot .570 In Whipping Loyola Club

Chicago — Riding a 15-game winning streak, the Marquette basketball team faces offense-minded DePaul here tonight.

The Warriors, ranked twelfth in the latest Associated Press poll, were not tested extensively here Saturday night as they walloped Loyola, 90-60, in a great shooting display.

On the basis of their 17-1 record and a string of 15 consecutive victories, they are figured to beat DePaul, 8-5 for the season but may have trouble with the Demons' complicated patterns.

'Tough to Stop'

Warrior Coach Ed Hickey pointed out that the Demons "are not anywhere as near concerned about defense as they are about opening up avenues and setting up screen shots for their terrific little shooter, Howie Carl."

"And it pays big for them," Hickey added. "Carl, only 5-10, put in 37 points against Western Kentucky and he can kill you by shooting from behind 2-man screens or by driving through. He'll be tough to stop."

Marquette started lethargically against Loyola and the score was tied eight times before the Warriors broke a 26 deadlock and left the floor with a 37-32 advantage.

Whatever Hickey told his team during the intermission had a pronounced effect. The Warriors, who finished with a sensational 57 per cent from the floor, racked up 53 points while holding Loyola to 28.

McKeon Enthusiasm Makes Baseball Season Seem Near

Foxes' New Manager Begins Fast-Paced Visit

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Jack McKeon, the Fox Cities baseball manager, makes the 1959 baseball season seem much closer than it really is.

Although the first Three-I league date at Goodland field is nearly three months away (May 5), anyone who listened to McKeon effervesce about a new-look Fox Cities club over the weekend can scarcely wait for the first pitch of the season.

It's pretty hard to remain blase in the presence of this articulate, convincing young man in McKeon. Fox Cities officials have found a field boss whose enthusiasm matches their own and whose personal interest in the team's welfare also appears to equal theirs.

Going Places

The 28-year-old skipper, who seems destined to "go places" in baseball, will definitely be going places during his fast-paced, 8-day stay in the Fox Cities.

Sunday morning, he spoke to the St. Mary Holy Name society; Sunday evening he met area press, radio and TV representatives; and he was scheduled to address the Appleton Lions club this noon.

The rest of his busy week looks about the same.

McKeon, who has finished out of the first division only once in a colorful 5-season managerial career which brought him the nickname, "Little Bulldog," is not one to dwell on predictions. The only guarantee the straight-talking, self-assured newcomer would give Foxes' fans is:

"I'll be hustling, and I'll have a hustling and interesting ball club."

McKeon intimated that the 1958 Foxes carried too much "deadwood." There'll be a few familiar faces back, he reported but for the most part, he wants to go with a fresh roster. The hold-overs

3 Area Fighters Survive In Golden Gloves

Milan Sonkowsky, Pat Derby, Tom Lieding Earn Decisions in Fond du Lac Tourney

Fond du Lac — Three out of five Fox Cities representatives survived four hours of action here Saturday night in the 34-bout opening of the fourteenth annual Fond du Lac district Golden Gloves boxing tournament.

Actually, Fox Cities Golden Gloves posted a 4-2 record in six bouts, with Jim Reedy, 147-pound novice entry from Appleton, winning his first fight and then losing a close decision in his second appearance of the night.

Beats Former Champ

Winners included Milan Sonkowsky, Appleton, 175-pound open division contestant; Pat Derby, Appleton, 160-pound novice, and Tom Lieding, Kaukauna, 126-pound novice. Losing in addition to Reedy was Walt Skinner, Appleton, 147-pound novice.

Sonkowsky, tall, well-conditioned Appleton light-heavyweight, had the distinction of eliminating a former district champion when he decided brawling Bob Neumeyer of St. Nazianz. Neumeyer's best efforts were made early in the fight when he caught Sonkowsky occasionally with roundhouse lefts to the head.

Sonkowsky slowed Neumeyer with a jolting uppercut late in the first round, however, and caught him with a solid overhand right early in the second. By the close of the second round, Neumeyer, though obviously weary, was still trying to land a haymaker. Both fighters tumbled to the canvas in a third round collision before Sonkowsky began to find the range repeatedly and forced Neumeyer to hold on. A better boxer all the way, the rangy Sonkowsky was a clear winner by decision.

Reedy, of course, was the busiest Fox Cities entry. He used a left jab effectively

Littler Wins Phoenix Open

Nips Art Wall By 1 Stroke to Collect $2,400

Phoenix, Ariz. — Professional golfer's touring caravan headed for Tucson today with Gene Littler the latest to pocket a tournament championship check. Littler scrambled in Sunday with a one-over-par 71 to collect $2,400 in the $20,000 Phoenix open.

The 28-year-old San Diego golfer toured the 72 holes in a 12-under-par 288 that tied a tourney record set in 1948 by Bobby Locke.

Runnerup Art Wall, Jr., Ponca Manor, Pa., was six strokes down when the final round opened, but chipped away five of them with a sizzling 66.

Littler provided a heart-stopper for the record gallery of 8,000 when he came to the eighteenth needing only a par 5 to win. He missed a 4-foot putt and the ball bounced two feet past the cup. Then he rammed it home.

Wall collected $1,700 for his second place finish and boosted his winnings for the year to $13,600—tops among the touring pros.

Tied for third place were Jimmy Clark, Huntington Beach, Calif.; Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill.; and John McMullen, Fair Oaks, Calif. All seven strokes back, collected $1,230.

$2,250,000 Display 'Package Deal' Dominant Feature Of Huge Boat Show in Chicago

BY JAY REED
Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

Chicago — They're selling boats in packages this year. Packages, that is, which include the boat, an outboard motor and a trailer.

The "package deal" is dominant in the twenty-ninth annual Chicago national boat show currently underway here at the International Amphitheatre, 42nd and Halsted.

Dealers, each tuning his pitch to the family ear, are using this largest of all marine exhibitions to display neat combinations of aquatic equipment. The show ends Feb. 15.

If the show has a fault it could be only that it is simply too large. Over 850 boats costing more than $2,250,000 are jammed in the mammoth amphitheatre in the stockyards.

Price Range

And the exhibits run the full price range — from a $75 hunting skiff to a $40,000 sea-going yacht. In between are prams, utility boats, houseboats, rafts, pontoon boats, inboard and outboard cruisers.

David Jenkins and Carol Heiss open defense of their world figure-skating championships in Colorado Springs Feb. 24 with results of the North American and European title events showing that they have little to fear.

Miss Heiss, 19-year-old blonde from Ozone Park, N.Y., who has won the world title the last three years, repeated as the North American champion Saturday at Toronto with a near-perfect performance. She scored 995.2 of a possible 1,000 points.

Jenkins, the 22-year-old Colorado Springs pre-medical student attending Western Reserve, didn't defend his NA title because of the press of studies. But he has beaten the winner, 18-year-old Don Jackson of Oshawa, Ont., and runnerup Tim Brown of Colorado Springs numerous times in past competitions.

St. Norbert 4 4	Stant 1 6

By the Associated Press

The University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee plastered Platteville, 98-68, Saturday night and moved into a tie with the Pioneers for top spot in the State College conference basketball race.

La Crosse downed Superior, 98-75, to strengthen its hold on third place, Oshkosh edged Whitewater, 64-62, and Eau Claire took River Falls, 93-82.

Stevens Point lost to St. Norbert 83-80, in a double overtime, non-conference clash and Stout was idle.

Dibelius Hits 24

In handing Platteville its first conference loss of the season, U-M-W broke to a 43-39 halftime lead.

Whitewater overcame a 29-27 midpoint deficit for a brief spell but the Titans choked off the rally and went ahead for keeps. Ron Dibelius led Oshkosh with 24 points.

Stevens Point held a 37-35 edge at halftime against St. Norbert. The score was tied at 72 at the end of regulation time and at 76 at the close of the first extra period. Sam Antcliffe of the Pointers took scoring honors with 35 points. Lee Guetschow led the Green Knights with 18.

Canoes Popular

Canoes continue to hold their popularity and rapidly gaining favor are the twin-hulled hydroplanes.

Trailers:

When a family buys a boat and motor it suddenly discovers it must have a way of moving quickly and easily from home to water. Thus interest in trailers is growing. Boat show crowds gathered at all extensive trailer displays. Effortless glide on and off the trailer and in and out of the water is the prime objective and all of the makes we inspected met those qualifications. Primary difference in many of the exhibits was the trade name. One manufacturer offers an automatic winch powered off your car battery.

Accessories.

Newest in this department is portable cooking gear, for board and 14-foot trailer for $900. Other "packages" ranged up to $1,500 and beyond, depending upon size and type.

Show in Brief

The boat show in brief: Outboard motors. Power plants displayed here range in muscle from 1.7 horsepower up to 70 horsepower. Non-gearshift motors are the exception this year, as are non-remote fuel systems. This, the manufacturers say, is another step away from the era of cranky "egg-beaters" to the big, quiet outboards of today.

Sound and ride control. In fact, are big selling points for most dealers. Easy and dependable starting is an item they mention most frequently.

Boats.

Small, 12, 14 and 16-foot utility boats are still the most popular craft but there is a trend, and spectator interest at the show tends to prove it, toward larger cruiser — type units with bigger, more powerful motors.

Many persons are looking to the cruiser class or house-

U. S. Trackmen are Too Soft, Says Elliott

Herb to Receive Eagles Award in Milwaukee Tonight

Milwaukee — P — Herb Elliott, the 20-year-old Australian who holds the world record for running the mile, says American trackmen are too soft.

"A lot of chaps can run the first half in two minutes," Elliott said. "But running the second half constitutes the real test. They U.S. runners can't do it, because the body wants to stop. And if the Americans want to run they'll have to deny themselves of what the body wants, like chocolates, for instance."

Receive Trophies

Elliott and tennis queen Althea Gibson of New York will receive trophies tonight at the male and female athlete-of-the-year for 1958.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles will present the awards at a banquet. The Eagles base their award on the annual Associated Press poll.

Elliott said that if U.S. athletes don't bear down soon the Russians will clean up an impressive list of firsts in Olympic competition.

There's too much emphasis on team winning in America," Elliott said. "Here an athlete is told track is a team sport and he must more or less sacrifice himself for the good of the team."

"For example, a fellow like your Don Bowden, who I think is the most promising miler in your country, has to compete in the half as well as the mile. He'll run three races in an afternoon. Now Bowden should concentrate only on his specialty, the mile and run when he feels like running — not when the coach tells him to," Elliott added.

Elliott said he believes in the system of government subsidies for athletes in Australia.

Indiana's hoop-happy Hoosiers return home tonight after a successful 2-game road trip. They have a perfect opportunity to move into a first place tie with Michigan State in the Big Ten basketball race.

All Branch McCracken's sophomore hotshots have to do is beat Illinois, a team which has lost five in a row, to gain a share of the lead.

Back in Picture

Indiana's 84-79 victory at Michigan plus Michigan State's 85-81 loss at Purdue Saturday brought about the ideal situation for the Hoosiers. MSU's loss was its second against six victories while Indiana was scoring its fifth success against two defeats.

Meanwhile, Iowa and North western moved back into the title picture by climbing into a off the rally and went ahead for keeps. Ron Dibelius led Oshkosh with 24 points.

Stevens Point held a 37-35 edge at halftime against St. Norbert. The score was tied at 72 at the end of regulation time and at 76 at the close of the first extra period. Sam Antcliffe of the Pointers took scoring honors with 35 points. Lee Guetschow led the Green Knights with 18.

Dellinger Sets World Indoor 2-Mile Record

Boston — P — Lt. Bill Dellinger sees his world indoor 2-mile record as a step toward the Olympic 5,000 meter gold medal he wants in 1960.

The Air Force lieutenant revealed his goal Saturday night after racing to an 8:49.9 clocking in the seventeenth Boston A. A. games. Horace Ashenfelter had the listed indoor standard of 8:50.5 posted in 1954.

Dellinger had asked to be switched to the two mile because "I got tired of running second to Ron Delany."

Dellinger won the NCAA mile as a sophomore in 1954 and has the fastest 1,500 meter time ever recorded for an American, 3:11.5.

Delany registered his twenty-seventh consecutive indoor mile triumph in 4:04.3.

Mrs. Omelenchuk Has Eyes Focused on Olympic Crown

Milwaukee — P — A slender blonde who stands only 5 feet, 4 inches in her stocking feet has her hazel eyes focused on an Olympic women's speed skating championship. Mrs. Jeanne Omelenchuk of Detroit usually gets what she goes after.

The North American Speed Skating championships concluded Sunday at West Ailis provide a case in point.

Secondary to Title

The 27-year-old art teacher made up her mind that the senior women's title would not elude her. It didn't. She won all five of her races during the 2-day meet and added the North American trophy to a shelf that already holds the Great Lakes and U.S. championships for this year.

Then too, she was among the first women chosen as candidate for Uncle Sam's 1960 Olympic team last week at Minneapolis.

All this, she said, would be secondary to an Olympic title at Squaw Valley, Calif., next year.

"That would make my life complete. All of the training, the early-to-bed, early-to-rise routine, the proper dieting would then be worth it. Actually, though, I like the Spartan life. I was a tomboy as a girl, loved all kinds of sports. I just couldn't sit still."

Mrs. Omelenchuk took up speed skating 10 years ago after reading all she could find on the subject.

Olympians accounted for the other three major division titles in the North American. Gene Sandvig of Minneapolis and Keith Meyer of Chicago shared the senior men's title while Tom Weisel of Whitefish Bay, won the intermediate boys' championship and Barbara Lockhart of Northbrook, Ill., prevailed in the intermediate girls' division.
